Edit

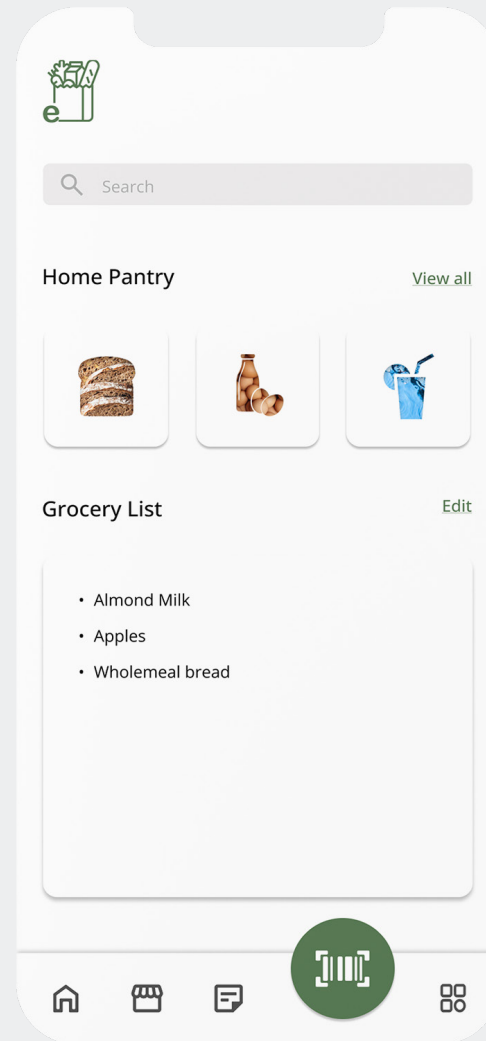

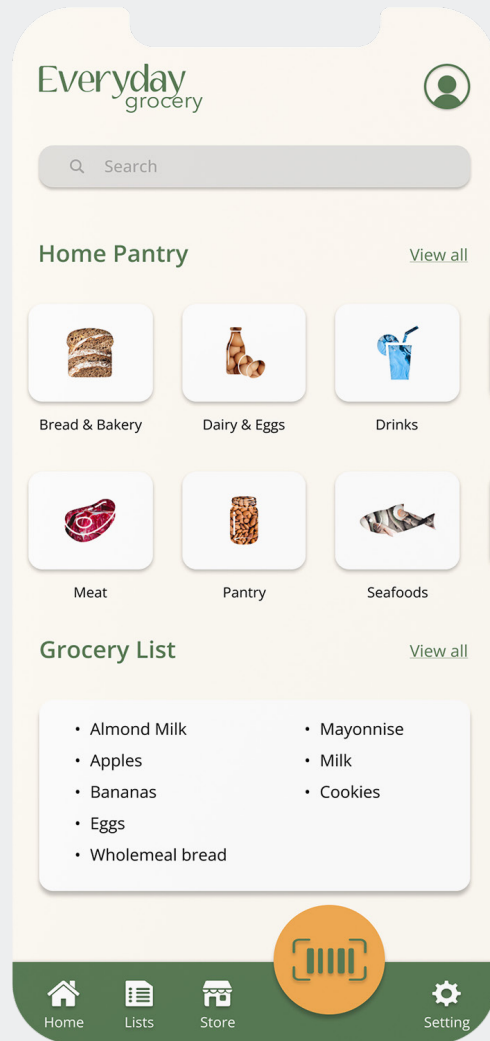

Everyday Grocery is a grocery shopping aid that makes the customer's grocery shopping experience more productive. When going grocery shopping, many people experience problems such as spending longer than anticipated in the store.

Problem

In today's fast-paced world, it's common for individuals to be in a rush and frequently forget what they need to buy at the grocery store or what they already have at home. Users may wind up purchasing items they don't require or that they already own. Due to expiration dates, the groceries will ultimately go to waste.

Solution

To develop a simple, minimal mobile application that would inform users of what they already had at home and what they still needed to buy, will make their enhance their grocery shopping experience.
